DR. SCHENCK'S
Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.
These medicines have undoubtedly performed more cures of Consumption than any other remedy known to the American public. They are compounded of vegetable ingredients, and contain nothing which can be injurious to the human constitution.
Other remedies advertised as cures for Consumption, probably contain opium, which is a somewhat dangerous drug in all cases, and if taken freely by consumptive patients, it must do great injury; for its tendency is to confine the morbid matter in the system, which of course, must make a cure impossible.
Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is warranted not to contain a particle of opium: It is composed of powerful but harmless herbs, which act on the lungs, liver, stomach and blood, and thus correct all morbid secretions, and expel all the diseased matter from the body. These are the only means by which Consumption can be cured, and as Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills are the only medicines which operate in this way, it is obvious they are the only genuine cure for Pulmonary Consumption. Each bottle of this invaluable medicine is accompanied by full directions.
Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, every Monday, and at the Quincy House, Boston, on the following Wednesdays, June 10th and 24th, July 8th and 22d, and August 5th and 19th. je6-eod

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." A BURLESQUE OF MACBETH.

At the Strand Theatre, London, on the 10th of January, 1849, was produced "Macbeth," "somewhat removed from Shakespeare"—a burlesque in two acts, by Francis Talfourd. It is an exceedingly good specimen of burlesque literature, and was evidently very successful, as it was subsequently revived at the Olympic Theatre, five years later. The following are some of the funniest passages:

[Scene I. represented a blasted heath—thunder and lightening—hail and rain—the three witches discovered crouching, one smoking a short pipe.

[Enter Macbeth and Banquo, under an umbrella.]

BAN. So half and half a day I never met.
MACB. A mixture of Scotch hail and heavy wet,
BAN. I told you when we started, my fine fellow, 'Twas wise to bring the family umbrella.
MACB. You will allow me to observe, my pippin, You get its shelter, and I gets its drippin'

(The witches come forward.

1st Witch. Cross the poor fellow's hand, my brilliant soldier,
2d Witch. My gentle sportsmen, have your fortunes told yer.
Witches. Until you guess?
MACB. You should be women, but I never saw One who wore whiskers and a beard before And long among the fair sex might I seek For one who showed so little bare-faced cheek.
A lady in your likeness would be jeered, Unless as a daguerrotype, by Beard—
A Newgate "fringe" infringes on our rights What are ye, hideous fair ones, gentle frights?

This last line is exceedingly droll. There is an aim at something more than mere punning.

WITCHES (bridling up.) Well, I'm sure!
BAN. My friends, don't heed his ravings, He seems a deal bored with your little shavings.
1ST WITCH. Hail, Thane of Glamis!
2ND WITCH Thane of Cawdor, hail!
3RD WITCH. Macbeth, by perseverance, shall not fail To be King of Scotland!
ALL. Hail! hail! hail!
MACB. What mean these salutations, noble Thanes?
BAN. These showers of hail anticipate your reign.

Banquo's speech to the witches is worth quotation:

BAN. Excuse me ladies, ain't you going it!—
My lot, now—I don't care much for knowing it,
For, as for reading fortunes in the stars,
Men all have the same mother planet—Mars.
Suckled alike in the same Milky Way,
And born to trouble so what you may say
Won't overwhelm me much with fear or hope
To cope with horrors is man's hero-scope.
With nonsense, therefore, don't attempt to cram one,
And as you'd save your bacon, spare your gammon,

The first act concludes with the uproar consequent on the discovery of the murdered Duncan. Macbeth's speech to his wife, after having "done the deed," is very funny.

MACB. One sung out in his sleep—how soon I fear he'll sing to quite another tune!
They both were beery—one declared out right He'd no intention to go home that night,
And as in hideous mockery of the scene,
Added in hiccups—it was—"All serene."
The other in no high state of sobriety,
Heedless of manners, sang out, "Tulla-li-ety."
LADY M. O, hone me, now, you mustn't think of this!
MACB. How much more need of joyousness had I, yet he Sung, and I couldn't echo, "Tulla-li-ety."

As a last quotation, we will give the parody of the witches' scene, in the cave, preparing the magic spells:

[Chorus—Witches.]

We'll raise a jolly good spell—oh!
We'll raise a jolly good spell—oh!
We'll raise a jolly good spell—oh!
Macbeth to terrify.
It's a way they had on the stage—oh!
When melodrame was all the rage—oh!
The audiences with spells to engage—oh!
So we'll at a spell have a cby!

THE INCANTATION.

I.

Apron strings of old maids—babbies,
Tongues of spiffilicated fables;
Juiceville of a greasy gent,
Reeking with unhallowed scent!

II.

Beards of maggots, maws of mummies,
Fingers of fine-strangled chummies;
Heap on humbugs, all to aid us;
Banjos, bones, and serenaders.

III.

Holloways grease and Franklin's pills,
Fuel therein of human ills;
Mild emetics, one a dose is,
Seventy seven street-sweepers' noses.

IV.

Fashion new that taste perverts;
The last new thing in shirts.
Mangy coats of aspect rare,
And the gents' real head of hair!

HOW TO FEED HORSES.—A contributor, after trying several ways of feeding horses, has settled down on the following: He feeds whole hay with six quarts of bran and cornmeal, half and half, twice a day, wet. He has fed so for the last year. His horses look finely, and he works them hard, but at the same time he is a careful man with a team. He intends to have them fed at stated times once in twelve hours. This is much better than feeding meal alone, as the coarse bran separates the particles of meal and prevents its packing so hard as it otherwise would in the stomach of the horse. The concentrated food should be more divided with coarse fodder. Young and vigorous horses may stand it well for a few years, as their digestion is more active, but bran and meal mixed in equal proportions is too compact for proper digestion in most horses, and they will in a short time be affected with colic and many other stomach complaints. The omnibus lines in cities have had experience on a large scale and find the only safe way is to feed meal, or meal and bran mixed with about an equal weight of cut straw or hay. This gives abundance of strong food, and also bulk, leaving the contents of the stomach in a proper condition, so that the gastric juice can circulate freely through the mass and come in contact with every portion at once. Feeding concentrated food to horses without a mixture with coarse fodder, is the fruitful cause of stomach complaints, colics, inflammations, blind staggers, etc. We have known many horses lost by feeding meal alone, or meal with a small quantity of bran.

MAN'S DEVOTION.—The funeral obsequies of Mrs. Jane C. Taylor, who died at the age of eighty years, were celebrated on Monday at Trinity Methodist church. Her father was a Baptist and the first minister of that denomination to preach in this city. Mrs. Taylor has been gradually declining for five months. Her husband, Mr. Thomas Taylor, is well known by all the people near the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad depot, as a night watchman. He is about sixty five years old, and has lost a leg. Though entirely dependent upon his labor for support, so soon as his wife became ill he surrendered his place and took his position by her bedside. Call night or day, you would always find him at his post. His wife required much attention. For four months he was only in bed three nights. Day and night for 120 days he sat by the bedside as ready in the day before her death as at the beginning to comply with every wish. Few women have ever surpassed Mr. Taylor in constant devotion. No man, we venture to say, since the foundation of this city has equalled him.—[Richmond Enquirer.

THE DAY.

Inventors in Essex county are said to get one-eight part of all the patents issued to parties in the state. More Butlerism.

S. R. Spaulding, president of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company, and an old and highly respected merchant of Boston, died at Saratoga on Monday evening last, of heart disease. He leaves a widow, one son, and two daughters. Mr. Spaulding was born in Putney, Vt., May 31, 1805.

The Montreal chambermaid who bottled the water in which the prince of Wales washed his hands ought to meet and marry the young man who gave the President a light the other day and wouldn't finish his cigar, but saved the stub to deposit under a glass case as a memento of the President and an evidence of the intimate relations he had sustained toward the chief magistrate. Such hero worshippers as these would undoubtedly feel honored if asked to hold a President's horse or clean a king's boots.

There ought to be a statute of limitations relating to applications to the city council for relief or action of any kind. It isn't right that any lunatic who can cover six or eight pages of foolscap with incoherent vaporings should have the power of boring the city council and consuming their valuable time once each month on the same business. The council should have some way of disposing of matters of this character for one year at least. After a man has been acquitted from any charge he can't be arraigned again on the same charge and the council ought to be at least as well protected as a private citizen is.

The Boston Post, one of the most valuable papers in the country in spite of its indelible Democracy, has moved into commodious and elegant quarters on the spot where Benjamin Franklin was born, and we hope that its good natured and always lively rooster will crow from his present quarters for the remainder of his life. The Post was obliged to move from Water street to Milk street because Postmaster Burt and Architect Mullett chinked out certain so-called improvements in the former locality. From its present lacteal site the Boston Post will diffuse liquid nourishment to quench the thirst for knowledge on the part of Democratic babes and we wish it unlimited success in its advocacy of hard money and free trade.

There was a refreshing display of innocence in the city council last night when one of the honorable gentleman enquired how it was that the council could purchase a steam roller at an expense of $7200 without submitting the matter to a popular vote. An older Solon than he explained that at the beginning of the municipal year $60,000 was appropriated for streets and highways with the provision that the roller was to be bought out of this money. Nobody could question the propriety of this arrangment and as precedents are often asked for it was shown that last year a steam fire engine was thus purchased out of the fire department appropriation. We don't see why the council couldn't build a new school house or bring water into the city without any popular vote. And furthermore, as long as the council can appropriate to their hearts' content at their first meeting it seems to us that the $3000 limitation during the rest of the year is a rather feeble and easily evaded affair.

If a cross walk on Thames street between Franklin and Cannon streets were expected to relieve the city from its state tax or from dust in Summer and ice in Winter or from communications "thus indirectly" or from any other crying evil it could not have been pushed forward with more persistency than has kept this great affair on its travels from one branch of the city council to the other, with occasional excursions to the committee on streets and highways, for considerably over a year. We don't see how any money is to be wrung out of this affair and therefore we see no evidences of a ring but the McGarrahan claim and the great beef contract were not more zealously supported in Congress than has this cross walk measure been supported in the city council. We are glad that at least both branches have agreed on the matter and the cross walk is to be laid. Time will be saved, profanity prevented and virtuous persistency worthy of a larger cause is at last rewarded.

The missionaries of white civilization are earnestly at work, and all the black men are likely to be converted into corpses. As the whites can not materially increase their own numbers, they are preparing for election day by thinning out their opponents. If they succeeded in killing one negro in ten and satisfying the other nine that the exercise of the right of suffrage by them would be promptly followed by their funeral obsequies, they will probably have little difficulty in carrying the elections and securing white men's governments for the Southern states. It may seem to some people that to to break into jail and murder sixteen untried prisoners in Tennessee, and to repeat the performance on a larger scale in Louisiana, besides stopping a mail train by a false signal of danger and killing a colored mail agent, are not evidences of the highest civilization, but we white livered Northerners never could appreciate Southern chivalry. A government by white men who commit cold blooded murder as a recreation is not such a government as civilized people care to see established, whatever the Southerners may think about it.

THE BLACK HILLS.

Gen. Custer and his military scientific expedition are now returning with the grapes of Eshcol and the nuggets of Ophir and, if we can trust the newspaper correspondents who have accompanied the expedition, the Garden of Eden even did not flow with milk and honey and corn and oil to such an extent as do the valleys among the Black hills. The settlers in the Northwest are by no means the people to hoe corn when they can pick lumps of gold from the surface of the earth and already parties of colonists have planned to take possession of the country. Gen. Sheridan has refused to protect any such parties unless he has special orders so to do but the Black hills have been explored, the golden reports have been published and the mischief is done.

It seems to us that this exploration has been a great crime or a great blunder. The territory explored lies in the reservation of the Sioux. The government promised five years ago to keep soldiers and settlers out of this district, and now it has just sent fifteen hundred soldiers there with the certainty that by hook or by crook settlers will follow. If the government means to act in good faith with the Indians then the geographical information which Custer has obtained is by no means worth what it has cost. If the government means to break its treaty let it do so frankly and openly.

Of all the years the present was a most unfavorable one for this expedition. A general Indian war was threatened early in the Summer, and though our scattered military posts were unable to properly protect the settlers, they were still farther weakened when the sky was black with war clouds that Custer might lead a formidable force where no white man has any right to go except by the permission of the Indians. That a general Indian war and a wholesale massacre of frontiersmen has not occurred is very fortunate, but not at all to the credit of the War Department.

The Indians as well as the citizens of the United States have been assured that Custer's expedition was simply scientific, but does any one suppose that whites can be restrained from flocking into the district of which such glowing accounts have been told? Gen. Sheridan warns people not to go to the Black hills, but the uneasy spirits of Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and the territories will go where gold is said to be abundant. They will be scalped and then the army will be appealed to for support. Let the Sioux make the first effort to defend what their treaty with the government secures to them and all the Northwestern members of Congress will bring their whole political influence to bear on the President and the War Department in behalf of border ruffians whose greed of gold has drawn them where they had no business to go.

In our dealings with the Indians squatters on the Indian reservations have made more trouble than anything else. These people go where they will, irrespective of treaties and boundaries, and the government never turns a deaf ear to their cry, but responds by breaking its own solemn covenants and moving the Indians to a fresh reservation where the same outrage is repeated. Our government claims to be engaged at present in treating the Indians in accordance with the peace policy. And now is it consistent to invade the territory of the Sioux, give them a capital pretext to break their part of the treaty and encourage white settlers to squat on the hunting grounds of the redmen?

The expedition has been made and it is useless to cry over spilled milk, but the very least the government can now do is to exert itself to prevent the invasion of the reservation by settlers and to utterly refuse to go to the rescue of any whites who get into trouble in the Black hills region. We must either kill all the Indians or treat them with something like common honesty. The whites must be kept off the reservations. If the government doesn't keep its word the Indians can not be expected to keep theirs.

There seems to be no limit to the driving westward of the Indians. Gen. Pope proposes an opposite course. As long as the Indians move west, the white men are certain to follow, and as long as they retain hunting grounds they will remain savages. Gen. Pope proposes to move the Indians eastward to reservations in the states where they will be surrounded by civilization and where they will be obliged to give up hunting for want of hunting grounds. It may be well to try this experiment when future treaties are made but for the present let us deal justly by the red man and do by him as we promised we would.

The steamer Milando brought Honolulu news of Aug. 10. The king prorogued the assembly the 8th inst. He congratulated the members on the introduction of bills to aid the construction of a telegraph, and encourage steam navigation with foreign countries. He favored reciprocity with the United States, and said that no effort on his part would be wanting to secure the desired result.

AN ANSWER TO TAX PAYER.

To the Editor of the Daily News.

SIR:—In the News of yesterday you allow one of my neighbors to grossly libel my character and to attempt to do injury to my business, and I now avail myself of your courtesy to reply to the same. I have lived in Newport for 26 years: I was never arrested either for debt or anything else: I have worked for T. M. Seabury for 22 years and to him I refer the community as to my character. I have kept the Beach House for seven years and never had an angry word with a boarder of whom I have an average of 650 a season. They are composed of students from Catholic colleges of Canada, Maryland and some of the New England states, priests, mothers, fathers and sisters; hard worked shop and factory girls; skilled mechanics and honest laborers who come for a few weeks to recruit their health and I leave an unprejudiced community to judge whether they would abide under my roof a moment if the assertion in yesterday's paper had a shadow of truth in it. I am extremely fond of music and to please my boarders of an evening I play the violin, piano and a B. flat cornet. The sound of the latter is not pleasing to my neighbor's wife and a few evenings ago she sent a servant to me and said that if I did not stop she would enter a complaint against me; and hence the libelous article alluded to above.

I never have cards or dice used in my house. I also refer to Lieutenant Holland of the police force who stated to me last evening that he had never been called or had seen any disturbance in or about my house, save once and then the parties were in no way connected with the place. I am a taxpayer and take as much interest in Newport's welfare as "Tax Payer" does and it is not likely that any sensible man would allow the actions that he refers to to go unnoticed either by the police or the community. To my knowledge there have been but two nuisances on the Bath road and of these the neighborhood has been aware for a long time. The legal aspect of the libel will be attended to at once and in the meantime I refer the public to the following names as to my character and the reputation of my house:—

ALEX. MCINTOSH.
JAMES HAZARD.
JOHN H. GREENE.
JOHN CROSBY.
JOSHUA TEW.

BERNARD MCGOWAN.

STATE MISCELLANY.

Last Friday afternoon the Bristol town council, with several citizens visited the asylum, where a beautiful clambake was prepared by the keeper, Mr. Hiram Munro. After disposing of the clams, etc., speeches were made by G. H. Reynolds, (who presided,) Wm. H. Spencer, president of the town council; Messrs. Wm. J. and James A. Miller, and Mr. Whitney of Maine. The inmates of the asylum, some nine or ten in number, seemed mightily pleased, and after a few well selected songs the party returned home. The Rev. J. P. Lano, of the Congregational church, was also present, and invoked the divine blessing.

Barrington dedicated a fine schoolhouse on Friday evening.

The body of John Wheldon of East Providence was found floating in the river at Providence on Sunday.

The steamer Favorite, which for the past two Sundays has tried to land a company from Fall River, Mass., at Providence, has been prevented from so doing by the police of the latter city.

Joseph Kelly of Woonsocket attempted to kill his wife by throwing her down a steep embankment. She received severe and probably fatal injuries. Kelly escaped, but the officers are after him.

DYSPEPSIA.

☞ Dyspepsia is the most discouraging and distressing disease man is heir to. Americans are particularly subject to this disease and its effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual costiveness, heartburn, water-brash, gnawing and burning pains in the pit of the stomach, coming up of the food, coated tongue, disagreeable taste in the mouth, impure blood and all diseases of the Stomach and Liver. Two doses of Green's August Flower will relieve you at once, and there positively is not a case in the United States it will not cure. If you doubt this go to your Druggist Jas. H. Taylor and get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it. Regular size 75 cents.

.....Samuel B. Bryan, Japanese postal commissioner, passed through Omaha with his family last week, on his way to Japan. Mr. Bryan has been for years engaged in the United States mail service to the government; he was appointed to negotiate postal treaties with foreign countries.

.....A correspondent of the Springfield (Masss.,) Republican gives the following schedule of the Beecher family: "Miss Catherine Beecher is the oldest child of Dr. Lyman Beecher, and now nearly 74 years of age, having been born in September, 1800. Rev. William Beecher is 72, and Dr. Edward Beecher about 70: both were educated at Yale college, and settled in New England before they went West. These three, with Mary Beecher (Mrs. Perkins), Mrs. Stowe, George, Henry Ward and Charles Beecher, were all children of Dr. Beecher's first wife, Roxana Foote: while Isabella (Mrs. Hooker), Thomas and James Beecher were children of the second wife, Harriet Porter of Maine. There was a third wife, a Mrs. Jackson, who left no children by Dr. Beecher—James being the youngest child. Neither Thomas nor Mrs. Hooker, therefore, are full brother or sister to Henry Ward Beecher, or to Edward. Thomas was the favorite son of the doctor's later years; it would seem, he was either born in Boston or went there when a mere child—but he graduated in an Illinois college, and only studied divinity for a short time, if at all, in New Haven. In commending him to his old friend, Dr. Taylor, in 1846, Dr. Beecher spoke of him as 'raised under the ministrations of Edward' and possessing 'a mind not inferior to any of my sons, for quickness, depth and comprehension of discrimination surpassing almost any mind I have ever come in contact with.'"

DR. HICKOX'S SYRUP

Cures Bowel or Summer Complaints.

Being composed largely of Brandy, Spices and simple astringents, without a particle of Opiate, has proved after a 25 years' trial superior to any other article for Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Colic, Cramps, Sick or Sour Stomach, Sea-Sickness, Dyspepsia, &c., and may be implicitly relied upon in the most severe cases, yet so simple and pleasant that it may be given the most delicate infant. It acts upon the system like water on a wilted plant.

☞ A timely dose of Milk of Magnesia administered at the outset of an attack of cholera infantum in summer, will, in nine cases in twenty, dissipate the disease and ensure the escape of the little sufferer from a threatening serious indisposition. Caswell, Hazard & Co., Agents.

At thirty-five the average American discovers that he has an "Infernal Stomach," and goes into the hands of the doctors for the remnant of his life. Prevention is better than cure, but DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS will both cure and prevent dyspepsia, diseases of the skin, liver, kidneys, and bladder, and all disorders arising from a "infernal stomach." aug5-4wd

PIMPLES AND HUMORS ON THE FACE.—In this condition of the skin, the VINEGAR is the great remedy as it acts directly upon the cause. It cleanses and purifies the blood, thereby causing humors of all kinds to disappear.

☞ The nausea, heart-burn, and constipation which are among the most distressing attendants of pregnancy have been found easily managed by the administration of an occasional dose of Milk of Magnesia, which is now regarded as the friend alike of infants and mothers. Caswell Hazard & Co., Agents.

Misdirected Bile.

The bile is slightly cathartic, and when of the proper quality and poured regularly, as it ought to be, into the upper bowels, it keeps the intestinal canal free from obstruction. But if, owing to the sluggish action of the liver, the secretion be deficient in quality or quantity, or both, costiveness is the result; nor can the bowels under such circumstances be permanently regulated, except by an efficient anti-bilious agent. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such an agent, as well as a painless laxative and a genial tonic. Hence it is a specific for constipation. But this is only one of the many virtues of this unequalled vegetable restorative. It is one of the offices of the bile to eliminate the superabundant carbon from the blood, and when the liver does not work this function devolves upon the kidneys, which cannot even imperfectly perform the task without being seriously disordered. Consequently, kidney diseases are often consequent upon the torpidity of the liver. A course of the bitters will efficiently arouse and regulate that organ when inert or slothful, and thereby avert chronic disease of the kidneys or bladder, as well as cure constipation. Moreover, this powerful specific is an absolute cure for dyspepsia, nervous prostration, mental despondency, general debility, headache, and all the minor ailments proceeding from imperfect digestion and assimilation. As an invigorant for the aged and infirm, and a means of rapidly restoring the strength of convalescent patients, it takes precedence of every other medicated stimulant in use.

Newport Daily News.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1874.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Postal Department and its New Chief.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.

The position of Postmaster-General was today surrendered by Mr. Marshall, and assumed by Mr. Jewell, who took the oath of office before Judge Humphries. Mr. Marshall was at once reappointed first assistant, and resumed his old duties. After taking the oath, the new Postmaster-General says he intends to remain here and become informed of his duties before the assembling of Congress, in order that he may treat postal questions intelligently in his report in December.

The Navy Yard Inspection.—Result of the Congressional Trip.

The Senate naval committee, which for about a month has been on an inspection tour or excursion to the various navy yards in the government steamship, landed here today. The net result of the costly trip will probably be a report to Congress in favor of abolishing the navy yards at Washington and New London; the former because it is improperly located at a point difficult to reach, and the latter because, as alleged, it was started as a political necessity. It is not expected that Congress will adopt the recommendations of the committee. Senators Sargent, Conover and Norwood will go as a sub-committee to Pensacola, and make a report on that navy yard.

The Conference on the Southern Question.

The report that the President intended to return to Washington this week seems to be untrue, as the Attorney-General left here today to transact some public business with him at Long Branch. The principal subject has reference to the southern troubles, about which the Attorney-General is greatly alarmed; but the President does not appear to regard them with any apprehension.

FROM NEW YORK.

Propositions for Surrender of Hostile Savages in Indian Territory.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.

A special from Caddo, Indian Territory, says that Indian Chief Issnavicka with his warriors had sent word to General Davidson that he desired to surrender and go to Camp Sill. This is regarded as the entering wedge to the disarmament of the Indians. General Davidson intends to pursue his work vigorously up the Wichita and attack hostile savages wherever found.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Vermont Election.

RUTLAND, VT., Sept. 1.

The returns come in slowly, but the indications are that there will be but a slight falling off from the Republican majorities of 1872 on the state ticket. Several of the larger towns in the state have elected Democratic town representatives, which was effected by a coalition of the rum party with the Democrats. Rutland elects a Democratic representative by 31 majority. Brandon and Burlington also elect Democratic representatives by small majorities.

Charles H. Joyce (Republican) is elected by a very large majority from the first Congressional district; G. W. Hendee (Republican) is reelected by a large majority from the third Congressional district.

The Struggle in Judge Poland's District.

The bolt in the second Congressional district is a serious one, and has probably resulted in no choice at this ballot. The candidates are the Hon. L. P. Poland, the Republican incumbent and regular nominee, the Hon. D. C. Denmison, bolting Republican and C. N. Davenport, Democrat. Besides these, J. Mead, Granger, has something of a vote. The upshot of it is that thirty towns give Poland 3150, Denmison 3191, Davenport and scattering, 1203. There are 162 towns in the district, and there is still room for the election of Judge Poland, but the indications are against him.

The Rivalry Between Steamship Lines Ended.—A Board of Agreement Between Them.

LONDON, Sept. 1.

The representatives of steamship lines held a final conference at Liverpool today, and took steps which puts an end to competition between them. They fixed the rate of steerage passage at five guineas on fast and five pounds on slow lines, and agreed to carry freight at minimum rates, which are about fifty per cent. below those of the old arrangment. Three months notice is required from any line which may wish to withdraw from the agreement.

Six Men Murdered by the Savages in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 1.

Six surveyors from Lawrence, Kansas, were massacred by the Indians on Wednesday last, near Lone Tree, 40 miles south and 20 miles west of Fort Dodge. The names of the party are as follows: Oliver F. Short, D. F. Short, John F. Kenchler, James Shaw, Allen Shaw and U. C. Jones. Three were scalped.

Opening of the New England Fair at Cranston.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 1.

The New England fair opened at Narragansett Park, Cranston, this morning, and while there was a much smaller attendance than on the opening day at Mystic Park last year, the display in the several departments is far finer and the attractions greater than ever before since the inception of the society. On entering the pretty park the largest collection of fine-bred cattle ever gathered at the New England fair greets the eye on the left.

The entries up to today noon will perhaps illustrate the size and importance of all displays, which in the agricultural instrument and poultry tents are equal in importance to that of stock, much better in every way than in previous years. Under the head of cattle, 107 head of Jerseys, 22 pairs steers, 54 Devons, 30 pairs working oxen, 24 Holsteins, 150 Ayrshires, 52 graded, 95 Herefords and 112 shorthorns. Horses—5 saddles, 4 stallions for general use, 23 thoroughbred horses and stallions for general use, 25 fillies, 9 matched horses, 3 draft horses, 13 stallions four years and under five, and three and under four years; 10 driving horses, 5 family horses and 1 walking horse. In the gallinaceous division, 144 entries; aquatic, etc., 57; canned fruits etc., 15; home-made bread and cake, 45; brass, tin and copper, iron work and stoves, 87 entries; printing and binding, 20; dairy and kitchen utensils, 26; swine, 39; long-wooled sheep, 28; middle-wooled sheep, 28; merinoes, 22; agricultural implements, 281; carpenter's and cooper's work, 1; corporation manufacturers, 5; machinery for working wood, iron and stone, 22; new inventions, 26; carriages, 19; agricultural productions, 11; paints, oils and chemicals, 13; dairy butter, cheese and honey, 21; Rhode Island Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals, 1 horse-racket; needlework and embroidery, 114; miscellaneous articles, 181.

The Louisiana Butchery.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.

Despatches received in New Orleans by State Senator Twitchell, a brother of one of the persons killed in Conshatte, state explicitly that the only cause of the murder was the White League movement, to run out of the state or kill all the Republican leaders in the parish of Red River, which, by the returns of all the returning boards, went largely Republican at the last election, and thus to prevent the organization of the Republican voters of that parish for the coming campaign.

At the executive department it is asserted that the intention of the White Leagues of Caddo parish, to take possession of Red River parish, was known to the parish officers for days previous to the murder; and this was the only reason of the parish officers organizing to resist their displacement from the offices to which, according to the returns of their opponents, they were fairly elected. Governor Kellogg states that all the information in his possession emphatically contradict the version given by Major Steverson of the origin of the trouble.

The general relief committee of the Mill River disaster met at Northampton Monday night, to close up their accounts, as their services are no longer required. Treasurer Bodman has nearly $10,000 of the relief fund still in his hands, but it is proposed to give no further pecuniary assistance until winter, as all the sufferers from the flood are at least temporarily provided for.

Monday night a new lodge of Odd Fellows was instituted in Lowell. The hall is in a building especially built for such use at the Highlands. This is Lowell's sixth subordinate lodge, beside three encampments, a Rebecca, and a union degree lodge. The beautiful little lodge-room was crowded on this occasion by members of the fraternity.

George Law, aged fifteen and only child of C. D. Law, druggist, of East Jaffrey, N. H., while hunting Saturday afternoon, on the island in Long Pond, was shot by the accidental discharge of his gun, in getting out of a boat. The charge passed up through his head, which was terribly shattered, one eye falling into the water. He was rowed home by his companion, James Ahern, and survived until Monday morning.

Gov. Taylor addressed a meeting of Grangers at Monroe, Wis., on Saturday. Referring to the Potter railroad law, he said that the commissioners show that the railroads are doing the same amount of business as last year and would lose less than five per cent. of their gross earnings. It is further stated on the same authority that the St. Paul Company earned enough last year above expenses and interest on bonds to pay 7 per cent. on their common and preferred stock. In conclusion he expressed his belief that when people had established their power to regulate railroads it would be used with moderation and justice.

In Jersey City, Monday, the Rev. John S. Glendenning appeared before Judge Aldridge for examination on the charge of bastardy preferred by the postmaster. The court room was crowded. A squad of police were present to prevent violence to Glendenning. Ex-Mayor Sawyer, counsel for the people, asked to have the dying statement of Mary E. Pomeroy admitted as evidence, and offered to produce other evidence. The counsel for the defendant would admit nothing and the case was then withdrawn to be brought before a higher court on the charges of seduction and a breach of promise.

Messrs. C. & C. F. Eastman, wealthy merchants of Littleton, N. H., have purchased about twelve acres of land near Odiorne's Point in Rye and will erect cottages thereon the next season. The plan is for the local sojourners to be relieved of all culinary cares by a restaurant convenient to the cottages, which will supply the needs of the neighborhood. The tract sold embraces the spot where the first settlers in New Hampshire landed in 1623, and where the contemplated monument is to be built. This monument will probably be erected under the direction of a corporation, which will doubtless be chartered for the purpose by some future legislature, and it is to be hoped their receipts from patriotic residents and natives of New Hampshire will be adequate to a suitable commemoration of the early settlement of this memorable spot in the manner contemplated.

There are a number of abandoned farms in Vermont and they are chiefly confined to counties destitute of railroad accommodations. In Windham county these facts are shown by official statements. In Whitingham, during the past five years, thirteen farms have been abandoned, while thirty farm houses are now vacant. Wilmington, considered a good town, has twenty-seven farms abandoned and twenty-five farm houses vacant; Dover, ten vacant farm houses; Jamaica, twenty-three farms abandoned; Athens, six farms abandoned; Halifax, with thirty-three abandoned farm houses, and Marlborough with twenty-three in the same condition; Newfane, the country seat, has sixteen abandoned farms and Townsend twenty farms and farm houses abandoned and vacant. And so it is with the whole county, excepting only those towns bordering on the railroads.

Advice to Bird Owners.

VERMIN.

A GREAT trouble to birds in confinement, are insects, (small flee, of a reddish color), which often cause the death of a bird, though persons do not know what is the matter with them. They are generally produced by uncleanliness, and will, particularly in a wooden cage, increase very fast. The symptoms are, that when the bird during the day is observed to be often picking itself, and the wing and shoulders becoming bald, the crevices and joinings of their cage becoming dirty outside. The insects hide themselves during the day, in these crevices &c., creep out at night, crawl up to the birds and torment them most unmercifully. They will suck the blood out of them and prevent the poor things from resting all night. The bird thus tormented, will appear dull and heavy during the day; ceases singing, and if relief be not given them, it very often causes their death.

The above malady may be remedied by procuring a package of the GERMAN INSECT DESTROYING POWDER.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1874.

A FIGHT WITH A CATAMOUNT.

A correspondent of a paper in Reading, Penn., gives a thrilling account of a desperate struggle with a catamount in the Blue Mountains, on Wednesday last. Three hunters had started out in search of the animal, taking different paths, and agreeing to meet at a certain point marked by a tall tree. One of them Anson, by name, when about one hundred yards from the point of meeting, determined to pass up through a small ravine whose sides were overhung with a dense undergrowth of shrubs. When directly under a small crag, and walking along with his head bent to the ground and his form doubled in creeping under a low vine, he suddenly heard a crash overhead, and the next minute felt the claws of an animal sink in his neck and flesh, accompanied with fierce growls. By a very quick movement, Anson swung around his arms, grasped the animal by the neck with both hands and held it in a vise-like grip. He then staggered back to the clearing, when the animal shook off the hunter's grasp and made an effort to bite his neck.

The man grasped a knife in his belt, swung it around and sunk it deep in the animal's side. The brute gave a long low howl, and amidst the excitement man and beast rolled over on the ground, and as they did so the former received three severe bites in the shoulder. The growls of the animal attracted the attention of the remaining two hunters, who came through the bush toward the spot where the hunter and the brute were tussling on the ground. The struggle did not last long. Anson plunged his knife the second time in the animal's body, and in a few minutes it rolled over and died. The hunters then examined it and found it to be a species of panther, and which was thought to be a catamount of the mammoth variety. It weighed 146 pounds, and measured 4 feet 5½ inches in length: not counting the length of the tail, which was 2 feet 1 inch. It stood 2 feet 8 inches high, and was powerfully knit, and very compactly built.
